

I love squares!

Squares are my favorite shape. I think they are great when they are red or blue or even green. I bet they would smell and taste great if you could, in fact, taste and smell them. Saltines, for instance. They can be rough or smooth depending on what they are made out of, but their corners are almost always pointy. Two right triangles can fit into a square and that is pretty nice. The end.

These squares are brought to you by
Graphics for Design

